DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 13-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USPN 6,107,004 to Donadio, III in view of USPN 5,421,955 to Lau et al and in view of USPN 5,267,381 to Wright et al. Donadio, III describes (column 9, lines 43-61) use of a laser as a suitable slot cutting tool and describes (column 15, lines 44-59) rotating a tube held in collets in a lathe. Lau et al describe (Abstract and Figure on Front Page) use of a laser for patterning a tube body. Wright describes (column 7, lines 42-45) well known pattern recognition in a tube processing system. The use of pattern recognition is very well known and combination with a laser machining tool and a rotatable lathe would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the work can be processed more quickly.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 05, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Restriction Requirement

Applicant argues "no serious burden is imposed if restriction is not required". This argument is not convincing. Two method species have been claimed: I (claims 1-7 and 10-12) drawn to laser target amount removal on a device, and II (claims 8 and 23-26) drawn to laser treatment of a stent. No claims are generic. These two groups of method species are patentably distinct. One apparatus group has been claimed: III (claims 13-22). The apparatus can be used to practice another and materially different process such as heating, cutting, drilling, or marking. The work piece does not impart patentability to the apparatus claims.

Rejection Arguments

Applicant argues the claimed system is adapted to identify the positioning of a work piece. This argument is not convincing. The work piece does not impart patentability to the apparatus claims. The process of use does not impart patentability to the apparatus.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208

Art Unit: 1725

USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, all references are drawn to tube processing systems.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
